Captions are burned into the video, so they show the same everywhere. Every caption below can use any paper and ink colour, wraps to fit, can tilt slightly, and comes in with any of the motion moves (drop, pop, slide, fade, typing).

BUILT IN

Handwritten paper strip

A torn strip of paper with a handwritten caption (Caveat). The everyday caption style: friendly and personal.

Where it's used: most captions in the papercut reel and ads
Ask for it: “Handwritten captions on torn paper.”

Bold marker headline

Thick hand-lettered marker (Permanent Marker) on a paper strip, for hooks, titles and punchlines. Any paper colour.

Where it's used: titles, hooks, end cards
Ask for it: “Make the hook a bold marker headline.”

Typewriter labels

Small typewritten slips (Special Elite) torn on every side, for lists, labels and asides.

Where it's used: the crossed-out chores and excuses
Ask for it: “Put the list on typewriter labels.”

Flip-book lettering

Big white hand-lettered captions with a soft shadow, floating over the scene. They pop in with a spring, fade out, and shrink to fit long lines.

Where it's used: the 3D flip-book reel
Ask for it: “Big white hand-lettered captions over the scene.”

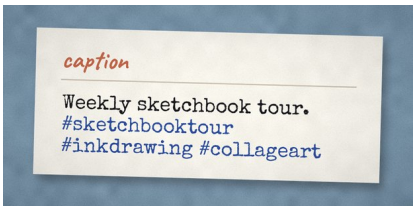

Reel caption bubble

A white rounded bubble with a handwritten caption, placed like an on-screen Reels caption, plus optional labels such as “hook A”.

Where it's used: the phone mock-ups in the ads
Ask for it: “Add Reels-style caption bubbles.”

Typed chat card

A card with a small header that types its message out, typewriter style. Hashtags are automatically inked in blue.

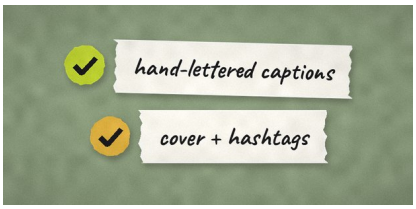

Where it's used: the “ask Claude” prompts and the caption card
Ask for it: “Show the caption and hashtags typing out.”

Red-ink strike-through

A hand-drawn red line that draws itself across a caption, for “not anymore” moments.

Where it's used: the crossed-out chores and “an evening of tutorials”
Ask for it: “Cross out the old way in red.”

Checklist ticks

A paper check-mark dot beside a handwritten strip. Great for feature lists and steps.

Where it's used: the “what you get” lists in the ads and carousels
Ask for it: “List the features as ticks.”

Price sticker

A scalloped sale sticker with the price in handwriting. The ₹ sign is supported (it is set in Caveat, which has the glyph).

Where it's used: the ₹699 lifetime-access end cards
Ask for it: “Add a ₹699 sticker.”

Step numbers

A big numbered paper dot next to a marker title, for step-by-step reels.

Where it's used: the 1-2-3 steps in the beginners ad and carousel
Ask for it: “Number the steps.”

Post caption and hashtags

The text that goes under the post: a written caption plus a set of relevant hashtags, saved as a text file next to the video.

Where it's used: instagram_caption.txt for the sketchbook reel
Ask for it: “Write the post caption and hashtags.”

Fonts and colours

Font	Look	Notes
Caveat	Handwriting, regular to bold	Has the ₹ sign. Used for prices.
Permanent Marker	Thick hand-lettered marker	No ₹ sign: write “Rs. 699” in marker text.
Special Elite	Old typewriter	Labels, prompts, chat cards.
Your own font	Any .ttf you supply	Drop it in the fonts folder and ask for it.

Paper and ink colours: mustard, sage, terracotta, dusty blue, cream, pink, cobalt, charcoal, chartreuse, paper white, ink black and red ink, or colours pulled straight from your artwork.

Not built yet (can be added on request)

Caption style	What it would be
Word-by-word highlight	Karaoke-style captions where each word lights up as it is spoken.
Auto subtitles from speech	Captions transcribed from your own voice or footage audio. There is no speech-to-text step yet; captions are written from your brief.
Hindi and other scripts	The current fonts are Latin-only. Devanagari etc. needs an added font (e.g. Noto Sans Devanagari).
Emoji in captions	The bundled fonts have no emoji glyphs; needs a colour emoji font.
